Write to Cedar:

Cedar is currently in segregation, and so letters are one of the only ways Cedar can connect to the outside world. Cedar was recently denied bail, and is inside with conspiracy charges. Feel free to write about your life, your heart, a beautiful tree you saw, a bird you are trying to identify.

Dos and Don't of writing:

- When writing to Cedar, keep in mind that all his mail is read by prison staff. For this reason, do not mention any illegal acts or actions.
- Your letter and envelope must contain your first and last name when writing. Be sure to include your return address on the envelope and in the letter/card.
- Page numbers are also helpful in case of lost pages (example: page 1 of 5).
- Last, letters and envelopes with anything "affixed" to the letter or card – such as glitter, glue, or white-out are not permitted .
